SEATTLE MARKET GARDENS EVENTS

ANNUAL GARDEN SUMMER POTLUCK CELEBRATION and PERGOLA DEDICATION

Join New Holly and High Point Market Gardeners and Seattle P-Patch Market Garden staff in the NewHolly garden to celebrate summer and community with a Pot Luck. A troop of Chhayam Cambodian Drummers will lead us in a fun garden celebration activity. The pergola is built and we also want to celebrate this great structure. Bring your favorite dish to share with others.

WHEN: Friday, August 31st, 2012

TIME: 4:00P.M. to 7:00P.M.

WHERE: New Holly Market Garden, at S. Holly Park Dr., between 40th Ave. S and Rockery Dr. S. Two blocks S.W. of the Othello light rail station.

Chhayam is a Cambodian cultural drumming. It is an exciting interactive drum activity. A group of drummers with long drums usually drum as they chant. They either stay still or slowly walk around within the event area. Normally, people join in by following the drummers and chanting with them. Please join us in this joyous celebration of the gardeners who grow us food, our Market Garden customers who support the growers and especially the earth from which our food comes. Thank you for supporting and participating in our local garden fresh produce and the garden as it helps to keep our communities safe and healthy.
